Are you new to your role?

Feeling excited, proud, or challenged every day?

Do you feel overwhelmed?

Wondering to whom you might reach out with your questions about running a program or where to go for the latest information?

The Activity Director Bootcamp is a new training opportunity from OHCA to help light a path of excellence for a new Activity Director. It was created to help inspire and empower new directors who are still getting their bearing in long term care. OHCA designed this bootcamp in collaboration with a team of veteran directors and aimed to provide valuable hands-on experience and insight. You will be able to hone your abilities and boost your talents.

This intensive two-day training features seasoned directors recalling their first day experiences and what they found most valuable as they entered long term care. You will become part of a cohort of colleagues where you build new opportunities for learning and exchanging right practices. The presentations are about more than theory; they will provide information to equip you with practical tools and strategies necessary to have an immediate impact on your department.

Wouldn't it be great to have colleagues who can show you the ropes and tell you about what they did and found most valuable when they first started their careers?

CLASS SIZE LIMITED.
